Our twist on the “6 Degrees of Separation” theory is this: Significant achievements for your business can often be traced to six or fewer simple steps.

For example, if you called New Global Telecom today to inquire about 6DegreesIP, a managed wholesale service, you can reap the rewards in just a few short months.

Because with 6DegreesIP, you can rely on our technology infrastructure, monitoring, support personnel and depth of voice experience. In fact, we’ll even help you implement a fast-track launch program to your markets!

With 6DegreesIP, you can deliver quality, scalable and feature-rich* VoIP faster, and with less risk than you thought possible. In any geography. And at a very competitive price for your customers.

Today, it’s just a phone call. But in the near future, it just might become one of the best business decisions you ever made.
